Questions to ask

• What is the difference between turn over and turn on?

• What is the past form of broadcast?

• Is the news singular or plural?

• Which programmes are gripping and which are confusing, in your opinion?

Anticipated problems and solutions

• ‘They broadcasted the match’ — broadcast is irregular: they broadcast the match.

• ‘The news are on at eight’ — the news takes a singular verb: The news is on.

• ‘Change the TV’ — say change the channel, turn over or switch channels.

• ‘a serial’ for a TV series — say a series; one part is an episode.

• ‘image’ pronounced like ‘imeyj’ — /ˈɪmɪdʒ/.

Fast finishers / weaker students

Fast finishers write six definitions of their own (like ex.4) for words in section B and test a partner; weaker students get the seven Word box words in a box and only match them to the definitions.

Homework

• Write 10 sentences about TV programmes you watch (rejadagi vazifa) — use the types in B and the adjectives in C.

• Learn the 34 items with the flashcards: sozlar.com/vocab/cards/?set=grade10-lesson34

• Use all seven Word box words (turn over, global, telecommunications, images, broadcast, up to date, headlines).

Reading text — Our TV evening

In our house, the remote is the most important thing in the evening. Dad wants the news bulletin at eight because he likes to stay up to date. Mum wants the weather forecast, because she plans everything for tomorrow.

My sister loves talent shows and period dramas, and she cries at every moving scene. My little brother only watches animations. I prefer science fiction films — the special effects are spectacular — but when the plot is confusing, I turn over.

Last Saturday the final was broadcast live, so for once we all watched the same channel. There were too many adverts, but the match was really gripping. Television hasn’t only changed the world; it brings our family together, too.
